THE MOST WONDERFUL FAMILY REMEDY EVER KNOWN.

A FEW PLAIN FACTS.

For more than twenty years we have been trying to build our business on the broad corner-stone of truth and right. We still believe that the prestige of honor and the power of truth are invincible and eternal, and that people are not wise who pay big prices for Pianos, Organs and Machines, when we guarantee the same goods for less money.

We advise our customers to buy only such makes as years of experience have proved the best in the world for the money. Such makes as Steinway & Sons, Wm. Knabe & Co.

Chickering & Sons, Hallet & Davis,
Decker Bros., Emerson & Co. Henry F. Miller.

Still if you want any other makes, don't forget we furnish them all, and you can save money by getting our lowest prices before closing any trade with any dealer, agent or friend. Try it.

KIDDER'S

DIGESTYLIN

INDIGESTION AND DYSPEPSIA.

A POTENT REMEDY FOR

Indigestion, Acute and Atonic Dyspepsia, Chronic and Gastro-Intestinal Catarrh, Cholera Infantum, and in convalescence from Acute Diseases.

Over 5,000 physicians have sent to us the most flattering opinions upon Digestylin as a remedy for all diseases arising from improper digestion.

For 20 years we have manufactured the Digestive Ferments expressly for PHYSICIANS' use, and for the past year DIGESTYLIN has been by them extensively prescribed, and to-day it stands without a rival as a digestive agent. It is not a secret remedy but a scientific preparation, the formula of which is plainly printed on each bottle. Its great DIGESTIVE POWER is created by a careful and proper treatment of the ferments in manufacture. It is very agreeable to the taste, and acceptable to the most delicate stomach. For the reliability of our statements we would respectfully refer to all Wholesale and Retail Druggists, and PHYSICIANS generally. Price $1.00. Sold by Druggists, or Cumberland.

Judge Bonney, of the Portland superior court, probably has sent more rumsellers to jail than any other judge in the country. His list numbers two hundred different rumsellers, many of whom he has sentenced several times apiece. He has also collected for the county over $150,000 in fines from violators of the liquor law, since he has been on the bench.

Hancock.

The East Maine Conference Seminary is free from debt, with an endowment of about $25,000, an income from tuition of $18,000, and an income from other sources of $2,000. Its apparatus is valued at $1,500. Its library has more than 3,000 volumes, and its cabinet has about 2,000 specimens.

It is said to be about a sure thing that the great yacht races will occur at Bar Harbor next September, provided the sum required for premiums, etc., is raised. The "Thistle," "Galatea," "Genesta," and many other noted yachts will be there to take part in the race. The Herald thinks that the required sum of $1,100 for premiums will doubtless be easily obtained as more than half the sum is already pledged.

The Augusta Log Driving Company will advertise for contracts to run the logs in the Kennebec this season. The job has heretofore been done by the company itself.

Tom Stevens, of West Gardiner, recently captured a lynx in a trap in that town. It is stated that the animal got caught and escaped seven times before being finally held.

A few days ago, Mr. James Carter, of Farmingdale, broke one bone of his left arm below the elbow and dislocated the other bone, by falling from a ladder. He lost the use of his other arm a few years ago by a disease of the bone which makes this injury more serious to him.

The Universalist church, of Gardiner, has purchased the organ which for many years stood in the Congregational church of Brunswick, and lately owned by Mr. Melville Smith, of Augusta. The organ has been thoroughly renovated and a large number of new pipes put into it, which makes it in every respect as good, if not better than a new instrument of equal register.

Fred Hight, youngest son of Hon. I. C. Libby, of Burnham, present member of the legislature, died quite suddenly March 11th with putrid scarlatina after a short sickness of only six days. His older brother Leroy, who is attending school at the Business College in Augusta, brought the disease home from there, had a slight attack himself, also others of the family, but they are doing nicely now. Fred was a remarkably bright, smart little fellow of three years and nine months and youngest of nine children. This is the first break in their family circle which of course is almost too hard to bear.

CITY REPORTS.

Report of Overseers of the Poor.

BANGOR, March, 1887.

TO THE CITY COUNCIL:

The Overseers of the Poor of the City of Bangor herewith submit their annual report:

Receipts, $17,611.67; expenditures, $15,537.41; balance unexpended, $2,074.26.

Gentlemen—During the past year we have found it necessary to do considerable repairing. The timbers under the kitchen floor have always laid on the ground, and the steam pipes running under the kitchen being laid under ground, kept the earth damp and caused the timbers to decay very fast, also put us to considerable inconvenience when necessary to repair the pipes. To avoid this trouble we have taken up the kitchen floor and removed some three feet of earth, thereby making a chance to lay the pipes above ground. We have also taken up all the pipes that lay under ground and carried them around under the kitchen floor, so that now they are all above ground, and can be got at without much inconvenience. We have put in a new frame, laid a new hard wood floor, and newly finished the kitchen. We found also that the timbers holding up the east end of the stable were so badly decayed that the building was settling badly. We have thoroughly repaired the same, and rebuilt the tie up for the cattle, putting in the new patent stanchions, and have as good a tie up as there is in the city. The old wood shed has been taken down and part of it moved back on a line with the new one. The farm is in good condition in every respect. Sixteen acres of the new purchase has been cleared up and plowed leaving about four acres to be cleared up this season. We have new cedar fencing on the ground to enclose the new lot. Our crops have been large and pay no inconsiderable part of the expenses of the Alms House, which you will see upon examination of the reports. The number of inmates at the Alms House has been less the past year than any preceding year for the last ten years, and the help required outside of the Alms House has also been less. We have partially supported one hundred and five families the past year, outside the Alms House, with provisions and three hundred and ninety cords wood, which is about ninety cords more than was required last year, caused by extremely cold weather. The poor of our city are in a very healthy condition, and it affords us much satisfaction to be able to report an unexpended balance of $2074.26, out of an appropriation of $12,000 for the pauper department, when taking into consideration that the expense of the Insane Asylum, Industrial School, and Reform School inmates are charged to our department. We think that there should be a separate appropriation for the last three named. In conclusion, we wish to extend our thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Hallborn for their kind assistance, and to the Mayor, City Solicitor, City Physician, and joint standing committee on pauper department, for their hearty co-operation.

Respectfully submitted,

DAVID W. POTTER,
HENRY O. PIERCE,
JOSEPH W. THOMPSON,
Overseers of the Poor.

B. & P. ROAD.

The Annual Reports.

Following are the reports presented at the meeting of the Stockholders of the B. & P. Railroad yesterday:

DIRECTORS' REPORT.

To the Stockholders of the Bangor and Piscataquis Railroad Company:

The Directors respectfully submit to the stockholders of the Bangor and Piscataquis Railroad Company, their annual report for the year ending December 31st, 1886:

Gross receipts for twelve mos.,	$147,368 76
Expenses, " " "	77,583 02
Net earnings,	$69,785 74

Paid the city of Bangor, $53,000, which lacks only $5,750 of the entire interest of the bonded debt to the city. Also paid interest on extension bonds, $15,000.

For the information of the stockholders, we insert the following table, showing the earnings of the road from December 1st, 1876, the time when the company came into possession of the road, after the termination of the lease to the E. & N. A. R'y Co., with the explanation that the first year embraces thirteen months.

The earnings of the Bangor and Piscataquis Railroad Company, since its completion to Blanchard in 1876, are as follows:

	Gross.	Net.
1877,	$71,383 47	$31,075 09
1878,	72,703 31	31,398 56
1879,	74,254 60	27,399 53
1880,	80,955 47	36,651 23
1881,	104,524 80	48,712 13
1882,	123,664 07	60,501 22
1883,	122,318 74	67,629 04
And since its extension to Moosehead Lake
1884,	130,892 91	66,535 70
1885,	139,272 57	52,900 70
1886,	147,368 76	69,785 00

It will be seen that there has been a steady, though not rapid increase of the earnings of the road since Dec. 1, 1876. If the road is not crippled by adverse legislation, the time will soon come when it will pay something more than the interest on its bonded debt.

The net earnings for 1885 were somewhat reduced by the payment for two hundred tons of steel rails, amounting to $6,359.40, and also for new passenger, baggage and freight cars, $5,621.40.

The annual interest on the bonded indebtedness of the Company to the city is $58,750; on the five per cent. extension loan of 1883, $15,000; making a total of $73,750.

Total number of passengers transported for the year, 46,649; total number of tons of freight, 56,487.

Number of miles run by passenger trains, 59,857; number of miles run by freight trains, 51,332; number of miles run by other trains, 6,550; total miles run 117,739.

The rolling stock is as follows: 5 engines, 5 passenger cars, 3 baggage cars, 43 box cars, 38 flat cars, 15 hand cars, 2 push cars, 1 flange scraper, 2 snow plows.

The rolling stock is all in good condition. Passenger car No. 1 was repaired at an expense of $935.95.

The station buildings have received all needed repairs. The second floor of the passenger station at Greenville has been fitted up for a dwelling house to accommodate the Station Agent, which, with other improvements in and about the building, cost $1,012.48.

The freight house at Milo Junction has been changed and repaired at a cost of $95.38.

A windmill for pumping water has been erected at Guilford at a cost of about $400.

Three hundred tons of new steel rails have been laid, and 10,459 new sleepers.

A gravel train has been run about two months, at an expense of $2,121.13.

Two new side tracks have been put in, at Foxcroft, to accommodate a foundry and a planing mill which have been established at that place. Total length of new side tracks, 1,142 feet.

No better report of the condition of your road can be given, than to quote from the last annual report of the Board of Railroad Commissioners, who say: "We are happy to note the continued improvement of this road. Steel rails and many new ties have been laid in the track over a portion of the road; the track is well ballasted, the road bed thoroughly ditched and drained. The bridges have received all necessary repairs, and new timbers placed wherever required on the smaller water-ways and other structures."

About four hundred tons of old rails and scrap iron have been sold for $6,919.50, and the amount appropriated towards the payment for new rails, which cost $10,256.82.

Nearly one hundred and fifty tons of old rails are now on hand available for repairs and extension of side tracks.

The road has been operated during the year, with a good degree of success. Trains have been regularly and safely run. Had it not been for the severe storm in the last part of February, it is thought that the whole interest on the bonded debt would have been paid.

The faithfulness of the employes of the company, under the vigilant supervision of the superintendent, has largely contributed to its successful operation and they are entitled to your continued confidence.

For a detailed statement of the receipts and expenses you are respectfully referred to the report of of the Treasurer who has managed his department in a very satisfactory manner.

We can not close our report without alluding to the death of the Hon. William B. Hayford who, at the time of his decease, on Tuesday the eighteenth day of February last, was President of the Board of Directors.

He was elected president of the board on the day of the last annual meeting of the stockholders of the Company. He had previously had, as one of the Trustees of the European and North American Railway, several years of experience in managing railroad affairs. With the experience thus acquired, he entered on the discharge of the duties of his new office with his accustomed energy and conducted its business to the entire satisfaction of the directors. On the day succeeding his death, a meeting of the directors was called, and the following resolves passed:

Resolved, That the Directors of the Bangor & Piscataquis Railroad Company, have learned, with sorrowful regret, of the death of Wm. B. Hayford, President of the Company: that as President, he managed its affairs with strict fidelity, great ability and good judgment, and that, in conducting the business of the Company hereafter, his directing mind will be greatly missed.

Resolved, That the above resolves be placed on the records of the Company.

By order of the Directors.

A. G. WAKEFIELD,
President.

Report has it that Senator Ingalls still preserves the first fee he ever received as a lawyer, namely a table and a high desk, made by a carpenter client.

Prof. Haeckel has gone to Asia Minor, where he will spend some months in studying the lower orders of marine animals along the coast of the Mediterranean.

The bronze tablet in memory of Dr. M. Ambler, who perished in the Lena Delta, is now shown at the Corcoran Gallery, Washington, but will presently be placed in the Surgeon-General's office.

A lady was importuning Lord Rothschild to direct her son into a paying business. "Madam," said he, "any business is good; selling matches even is a splendid business, if you do enough of it."

Some months ago the town of Reidville, Ga., became so overrun with rats that cats were imported to destroy them. Now the rats are all gone, but there are so many cats that they are a decided nuisance.

Hon. Norman J. Coleman, Commissioner of Agriculture, will on June 21 deliver an address at the Massachusetts Agricultural College, Amherst, in commemoration of the 25th anniversary of its establishment.

Mr. A. H. Hoeckley, city editor of the Philadelphia Press, has brought a criminal suit for libel against the Philadelphia Times, in consequence of an accusation that he was receiving $50 weekly from the gamblers of the city.

It is announced that General Sheridan is thinking of establishing his summer residence at the beautiful place, Nonquitt, on the Massachusetts shore, near New Bedford, which he has just visited. Next week he starts on a tour west.

The ravages of cholera in Chili continue, and the disease is spreading rapidly and is attended with great fatality. The warning to our health authorities upon the Gulf coast, the Pacific, and the inland route through Mexico should continue impressive. Better to virtually seal all our ports against the infected countries rather than to take the chances of introducing the plague.

The news of the death of her brother was received with composure by Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe at her home in Hartford. She is a year older than Mr. Beecher, and is so feeble that she was unable to attend the funeral. During Mr. Beecher's last visit to his sister, last autumn, he is said to have expressed his belief in his approaching death, and that it would be by apoplexy.

A. M. Woolenweber, who published a daily paper at Philadelphia a few years ago, is living at Reading, Pa., enjoying a competence and the shade and product of his own vineyard. He still evidences his love for newspaper work by acting as correspondent for some German journals, and by sending occasional contributions to the local press. Part of his daily amusement is to read through an exchange list of 54 newspapers.

They tell in Philadelphia that years ago a boy named Edwin H. Fitler climbed up on the roof of the old Bridesburg rope-walk to shoot a crow. He shot the crow, but the watchman of the building pulled him down from the roof and gave him a flogging. Edwin H. Fitler the same one, is now Mayor-elect of the city, and owner of that rope-walk and that same watchman is now one of his employes—too old to work, but pensioned handsomely.

Tourists returning from California speak enthusiastically of excursions to the Sandwich Islands, the lands of blue sky, blue mountains and palm trees. After the irruption of the volcano an excursion from California visited the scene of the event and enjoyed a unique experience in climbing the mountain. One party had a rather painful visit. In an expedition to the mountain several American gentlemen and a lady determined to explore the crater without the assistance of a guide, and in a short time lost their way. Darkness came on, and as they stumbled along the ground burned their feet and they were in imminent danger of falling into a crevasse. Finally they determined to remain quiet, and in a condition of exhaustion were found by a guide, who led them, weary and thoroughly dispirited, to the mountain house, where they received necessary care.

An elaborate attack on Mr. Rider Haggard appeared in the Pall Mall Gazette on Saturday, which accuses the author of "She" of plagiarism on a large scale from Thomas Moore's 'Epicurean.' This, says the critic, contains almost all the ingredients of Mr. Haggard's masterpiece.

Such queer things happen constantly in what is called "Washington society" that one ceases to be surprised at almost anything, no matter how absurd or outrageous, that may be told in connection with its doings. The following is at present going the rounds of the clubs: A certain hostess, the leader of one of the most exclusive sets here, gave a handsome luncheon the other day. Near the plates of guests there was put a silver salt-cellar of curious and artistic design. Against each salt-cellar rested the card bearing the name of the guest. It so happened that these salt-cellars were the gift of a very dear friend; in fact, they had been presented to the hostess on her wedding day, and she valued them accordingly. Imagine her dismay and indignation, when she saw one of the guests, after admiring the design, and evidently supposing from the card resting against the salt-cellar that it was intended as a favor, take it up and put it in her pocket. Worse than that, most of the other guests, not only one, followed her example. The hostess was speechless with surprise. She completely lost her presence of mind. A painful silence ensued, and the company parted under the impression that their hostess had suddenly been taken ill. When the doors had closed upon the last guest the unfortunate giver of the feast found upon counting her treasures that she had only two left. The next day came an explanation. A polite note was received from a lady who had been present saying she had neglected to take her favor, mentioning it, and asking the hostess to kindly send it. It was sent.

The Fashions.

[From the New York Evening Post.]

Daffodil brocades are imported, for summer evening wear.

A suggestion of silver throughout an entire black costume, gives a beautiful and uncommon effect to this sombre dress. This combination is charming in Lenten toilets.

Dark-blue camel's-hair serge, trimmed with the new cream-white silk gimps in Venetian arabesque designs, makes a stylish and becoming dress for travelling. Brides and fashionable young matrons select dark heliotrope or golden-brown Irish poplin, and decorate the revers, panels, waistcoat, collar, and cuffs with flat silk-cord bands and ornaments in applique, in a still darker shade of brown or heliotrope.

Another costume popular with young ladies is a kilted skirt and Grecian drapery of checked English homespun in several colors, handsomely blended. The postilion basque, as severe in shape and finish as that of an English riding habit, is made of plain ecru pilot cloth or English armure, with finely-stitched edges, and a row of small bronze and enamel buttons up the front. The sleeves button up the back to the elbow.

A dress of "English pink" pilot cloth, with vest of cream-white camel's hair, dotted with tiny English pink silk figures, with wide revers reaching from the shoulder to below the belt, these made of dark Roman-red velvet, with wide Charles IX. collar and turn-back cuffs of the same, is considered one of the very stylish tailor-made gowns of the season. This is also handsome in pale heliotrope pilot cloth, with vest of pale chamois-colored camel's hair, dotted with heliotrope, the accessories of dark violet velvet. Another model is a dove-gray nun's cloth, braided in silver, with white corded-silk vest similarly braided and fastened with chased silver buttons.

Sprays of heliotrope intertwined with long-stemmed hedge-roses, marsh-mallow blooms, hawthorn blossoms, and yellow primroses; honeysuckle and scarlet-velvet poppies and geranium blossoms mingled with pussy-willow and trailing arbutus, are favorite flowers for hat garniture, and render fine contrast to the rich black laces and other tissues that form elegant chapeaux, to be worn en suite later on with gowns of jetted net, grenadine, etamine or lace.

Shop-keepers are again endeavoring to impress upon their customers the many virtues possessed by Irish poplin. They aver that it never becomes shiny, does not crease, and is, so to express it, everlasting wear. Just now it is to be purchased in many very charming tints. In the paler ones, such as silver, chamois, dove, peach, petunia, and the new shades of chartreuse and resela, these poplins can be worn for full evening costume, more especially if trimmed with their proper accompaniment, real Irish point lace. In darker colors poplin is not too dressy for afternoon uses, being at the same time as durable an any material manufactured, not excepting the homely homespun or serge fabrics.

The new Persian striped or Roman plaided goods in silk and wool, which are now exhibited, are strongly recommended to women who wish to remodel their own or their children's last year dresses with comparatively little outlay. Granting that these goods may seem a bit high-priced, it requires but three or four yards to transform a dark dress in monochrome into a bright attractive costume; as mingling the gay-hued fabric with the plain trimmings on the skirt, with vest, collar and cuffs of the former goods added to the bodice, quite changes the simple dress into a stylish costume suitable and appropriate for any ordinary occasion.

A very stylish spring wrap for dressy wear, shaped in the form of a visite, is called the "Vandyke" mantle. The body of the garment is made of a rich quality of black Turc satin. The skirt portion is shorter than most of the spring models, and is covered with chantilly lace pleatings put on rather scantily, one above another, and held here and there by an arabesque design in cut jet. The half-open sleeve reaches only to the elbow, and is edged with a trimming of the lace and jet. From the shoulder seam down, are set three vandykes of black silk velvet, which are appliqued to the upper portion of the satin sleeve, and finished with a tiny cording of fine-cut jet beads. In the centre of these vandykes is wrought an embroidery of the same beads. Three larger velvet points are set, front and back, over the wrap, and decorated to correspond. The wrap may be lined with black, Roman red, or pale primrose-yellow surah, as taste may dictate.

We have of necessity to wear dark colors in winter, and naturally desire to throw them aside on the first appearance of sunshine and warmth, and the new plain and fancy woollens, both warm and light in color, at once find ready sale. These must nevertheless be chosen with caution. Pale-featured women can rarely wear neutral tints becomingly, without some deft arrangement of velvet or lace to intervene, and prevent hostility between the gown and the wearer's complexion. Colorless fair women must also discriminate between the rival tints, for there are some shades of gray and heliotrope that would prove decidedly unbecoming, for there are grays and grays, as there are greens and greens, these being the generic names employed in reference to colors generally and the various shades in which they are produced. Many shoppers have a hap-hazard way of selecting colors, seeming to fancy, for example, that brown is brown, and buy just what is first offered them, without seeming to realize that while golden brown may be eminently becoming, a deeper or paler shade with the brightness taken from it, may prove just the reverse, and so on through the lengthy list of shades and half shades.

Constipation

Is a universal and most troublesome disorder. It causes Headache, Mental Depression, impairs the Sight and Hearing, destroys the Appetite, and, when long continued, causes Enlargement of the Liver, Inflammation of the Bowels, and Piles. Constipation is speedily cured by Ayer's Pills.

For a number of months I was troubled with Costiveness, in consequence of which I suffered from Loss of Appetite, Dyspepsia, and a disordered liver. My eyes also troubled me. I was compelled to wear a shade over them, and, at times, was unable to bear exposure to the light. I was entirely three boxes of Ayer's Pills. I have no hesitation in pronouncing this medicine to be the best cathartic ever made.—James Eccles, Poland, Ohio.

I suffered from Constipation, and, consequently, from Headache, Indigestion, and Piles, for years. Ayer's Pills, which I took at the suggestion of a friend, have given me effectual relief. I commenced taking this remedy two months ago, and am now free from Constipation, the removal of which has caused my other troubles to disappear, and greatly improved my general health.—W. Keeler, Amherst, Mass.

I suffered from Constipation, which assumed such an obstinate form that I feared a stoppage of the bowels. Two boxes of Ayer's Pills cured me, completely.—D. Burke, Saco, Me.

BOUTELLE & BURR, PROPRIETORS.

C. A. BOUTELLE, EDITOR

All business letters should be addressed to Boutelle & Burr, and communications intended for publication should be addressed: "Editor of Whig and Courier."

THURSDAY, MARCH 17, 1887.

The Portland Press says Bangor did herself proud on election day and has a right to Bragg.

It is expected that the Legislature will adjourn either to-day or to-morrow. It has been in session eleven weeks.

Fusion having failed in Michigan, the next move of the Democrats is to organize a stillhunt in the hopes of catching the Republicans napping.

The Indiana Democrats should take notice that the Democratic Brooklyn Eagle believes that they are influenced by "sheer cussedness" and that a protracted session of the fool killer among them would be beneficial.

The Washington correspondent of the Boston Globe pronounces the report of the Washington correspondent of the Herald, concerning the probable retirement of Secretary Endicott, a "snake story" and entirely without foundation. Now it remains to be seen which is right.

Mr. Bragg has been elected Republican mayor of Bangor, Me., but his majority is nothing to brag of. However, barring his politics, Fred is a mighty good fellow.—Boston Globe.

The Globe has tried hard to get some consolation from the returns of the municipal elections in this State, but finds it up hill work. The fact is the Republican majority in this city was large and no one knows it better than the writer of the above paragraph in the Globe.

The animus of that intolerence which refuses to allow the colored man to vote with freedom, or to have his ballots counted with fairness in the South, is fully illustrated by this utterance from the Norfolk Virginian, a Democratic newspaper on the edge of the "black belt" of Virginia: "It is perhaps best at once to end the inordinate ambition of the negro and have him understand that the administration of this government has always been and shall forever remain in the custody of the white people."

Probably no preacher ever made so much money by the use of his brains as did the late Rev. Henry Ward Beecher. The following estimate of his receipts is given on the authority of one who it is said is in the position to know approximately the facts which he states. Mr. Beecher received from

There is a hot contest going on between Senator Voorhees and Judge Turpie over the appointment of a District Attorney in Indiana. Turpie, regardless of the fact that his election was the outcome of a fraud so glaring that the Senate will probably refuse to recognize his right to a seat, claims all the dignity of a full fledged Senator-elect and insists that he ought to have the naming of his successor. Senator Voorhees, on the other hand, secured the appointment of Turpie and believes he is the man to select a new incumbent for the office. The question is exciting considerable attention and is causing no little hard feeling. In the meantime the Republicans are preparing to take advantage of the record of fraud, as well as the internal strife going on in the Democratic ranks, and will place Indiana squarely in the Republican ranks next year.

According to a Boston despatch the name of Gov. Hill was more vigorously cheered at the late banquet of the Bay State Club to Speaker-Carlisle and other eminent Democrats than that of any one else mentioned save the chief guest of the evening. Governor Hill is the representative of that "more aggressive Democracy" that seems to be in favor in Boston as well as in most other places throughout the country.—Commercial.

As Gov. Hill is just now setting up his pins for the Democratic nomination in 1888 the query naturally arises whether our contemporary regards the above as calculated to prove its loyalty to the President. We doubt very much whether Mr. Cleveland would look upon it in that light. The New York World commenting upon the same despatch says had it appeared in the World it would have been charged with "booming Gov. Hill for President." How does our evening contemporary account for the appearance of this paragraph so soon after its denial of the charge of the Machias Union that it does not support the Administration as an administration ought to be supported?

The annual meeting of the Bangor and Piscataquis stockholders was held yesterday and the annual reports make a most satisfactory showing. Hon. A. G. Wakefield, who has filled the unexpired term of the late Hon. Wm. B. Hayford, as President of the Road, was tendered a re-election, but declined, and Mayor Nealley was then elected for the ensuing year. The Board of Directors comprises some of our most active business men and under their management the interests of the city will doubtless be carefully guarded. Speaking of the amendment drawn by Mr. Stetson, which was adopted when the Megantic bill passed, the Lewiston Journal says: "It would be impossible to describe the effect of this amendment, in detail, without a map, but in a nutshell it is this: It is 76 miles further from Minneapolis, on the proposed Canadian Pacific line, from the proposed Bangor and Piscataquis junction at Moosehead Lake to the proposed Maine Central junction at Mattawamkeag. By its amended charter, the Canadian Pacific is obliged to deliver freight from the West to the Bangor and Piscataquis, as much cheaper than to the Maine Central, as would be charged for this 76 miles at the rate charged for the whole distance. Suppose the rate on a carload of flour from Minneapolis is 10 cents a mile. The Canadian Pacific is bound to deliver the carload to the Bangor and Piscataquis at Greenville, $7.60 cheaper than to the Maine Central at Mattawamkeag, 76 miles further east. This is a magnificent advantage. Added to this, the Canadian Pacific is obliged to make the connection between the two roads at Moosehead Lake, which will cost $10,000, as there is a difference of 25 feet in the grades."

The Washington National Republican figures it that the next Senate, at its opening, will stand politically, Republicans 39, Democrats 36, with one vacancy from Indiana.

The eighteenth annual reunion of the Society of the Army of the Cumberland will be held in Washington, May 11th and 12th. The principal feature of the reunion this year will be the unveiling of the statue of Garfield in the circle at the junction of Maryland and First streets. The cost of the statue, which is the work of J. Q. A. Ward the sculptor, was met by contributions from the Army of the Cumberland, and Congress appropriated $30,000 for the pedestal. It is estimated that 500 members of the Society will be present.

From the State Capital.

LEGISLATIVE BUSINESS—WILL PROBABLY ADJOURN TO-DAY OR TO-MORROW.

[Special Correspondence of Whig and Courier.]

AUGUSTA, March 16.

These are the last days of the Legislature and the members have already begun packing up and making preparations for the final exodus from the capital. Many seats have been vacant in the House this week owing to the number granted leave of absence. The committees have practically all reported some time since and nothing remains but to finish up the business now on hand. This will pass into history as one of the hardest working and longest lived legislatures on record. The amount of work disposed of has been immense and has been considered carefully.

MORE IMPORTANT MATTERS

then usually fall to the lot of a Maine Legislature have come up. The labor bill has had a hard time of it but finally after many trials and tribulations, amended and reamended, going twice to a committee of conference, it has reached port safely very similar to the original Looney bill. Among other important measures considered may be mentioned that of the Bar Harbor Water Company, Megantic Railroad, trustee process, imprisonment for debt, labor at the State Prison, capital punishment and temperance has had rather a rough passage. On Tuesday the Senate amended it by striking out the provision that the payment of a special tax will be regarded as prima facie evidence in the conviction of druggists where intoxicating liquor is kept or deposited on their premises. It was asserted that the bill as it stood might cause the imprisonment of every druggist in the State doing a legitimate business. The internal revenue laws allow liquors to be kept for compounding medicines but there are prescriptions authorized by the United States Dispensary and the Pharmacopœa which cannot be put up without the United States internal revenue license. It was shown in the Senate that a simple doctor's prescription containing two ounces of whiskey could not be put up by a druggist without rendering him liable to imprisonment. The result of the law would be, it was said, that druggists could not put up many of the prescriptions of allopathic physicians without fear of imprisonment. The passage of this amendment left the bill so that the payment of a special tax could not be used as evidence at all in the conviction of apothecaries but this forenoon the Senate reconsidered its action of Tuesday.

BETTER HAVE LET IT STAND!

The friends of the bill abolishing capital punishment, in this city, are jubilant over the passage of the bill. Among those who took special interest in its abolishment here may be mentioned Hon. John L. Stevens, Judge Whitehouse and Hon. A. P. Morrill.

THE PRISON LABOR BILL

was refused a passage in the House this morning by a vote of 64 to 54. The carriage and harness manufacturers made a strenuous effort to have the Legislature relieve them of what they regarded as the serious competition of convict labor at the State Prison, but failed.

THE RAILROAD FIGHT.

Mr. Hayden, of Sangerville, made a strong argument in favor of the Bangor and Piscataquis Railroad and the towns along its route when the matter was before the House. Heably presented the just claims of his constituents as intertwined with this enterprise. Two of the towns that he represents, he stated, had put nearly $100,000 into this road. The towns voted all they possibly could, and then the citizens subscribed to the full extent of their means, in order that by promoting the enterprise they could develop their resources and thus increase their prosperity.

He hoped the House, in passing upon this question, would consider the interests of his district and of the people of Piscataquis county, and do what was just to them.

Mr. Hayden's speech was forcible in its character, sound in its logic, and eloquent with the intensity of his conviction.

WILL ADJOURN TO-DAY OR TO-MORROW.

The Legislature will adjourn Thursday or Friday. This is the eleventh week.

THE GOVERNOR

has made the following nominations: Justice of the Supreme Court, William Wirt Virgin; to fill the unexpired term of Charles H. Porter, (resigned) agent of the Passamaquoddy tribe of Indians, Henry C. Munson, Eastport; Penobscot Boom Commissioners, Joseph L. Smith, Old Town, Lysander Strickland, Bangor; Inspector of Lime, Wm. L. Blackington, Rockland; Coroner, Daniel D. Flint, Dexter; Justices of the Peace, Fred G. Eaton, Houlton, Lyman G. Brown, Bingham, John F. Butler, Athens, Frank L. Dyer, New Limerick, Geo S. Gentle, Houlton, Eastman Hathorn, Athens, Albert F. Higgins, Eden, M. V. McCusick, Calais, Milton L. Merrill, St. Albans; Notary Publics, E. G. Philbrook, Castine, George H. Boardman, Calais.

NOTES.

Bangor's portion of the State tax for 1887, as reported by the Finance Committee, is $24,069.05. This is a reduction of $8,738.60 from 1886.

Over four hundred acts and resolves will be passed by the present Legislature.

Mr. Blaine was among Governor Bodwell's callers to-day.

The legislative visitors have about all departed. Several of the attorneys still remain in the city, however.

Senator Heath occupied the President's chair in the Senate yesterday and to-day.

CANADA.

Increasing the Fishery Protection Fleet.

OTTAWA, March 16. An addition to the fisheries protection fleet was made to-day, the Department of Marine and Fisheries completing at Shelburne, N. S., the charter for a fast sailing schooner of 105 tons burden, to be used as a cruiser next summer. This is taken as another indication of a vigorous protection on the part of the Dominion Government.

LOSS OF A CAMDEN SCHOONER.

Wreck of the Schooner J. H. Eells.

Three Men Drowned and Two Saved.

BOSTON, March 16. A despatch from North Eastham this morning says that the schooner reported last night ashore two miles off Nauset life saving station is the J. H. Eells, of Camden, Maine, Capt. Wallace, Perth Amboy for Boston, with either pig iron or coal. She lies on the outer bar and is fast going to pieces. The despatch gives few particulars, but states that of the crew two were saved and one drowned.

A despatch from Orleans, Mass., states that the tug Underwriter, of Boston, rescued the two men who were seen clinging to the foretop and bowsprit of the schooner J. H. Eells, which was ashore off Nausett yesterday, and landed them at Orleans. The rest of the crew were drowned.

Further Particulars of the Wreck.

WELLFLEET, Mass., March 16. The unknown schooner before reported ashore at Nausett life saving station, proved to be the two-masted schooner J. H. Eells, bound to a northern port, probably coal laden. The keeper of the Nansett beach life saving station reports her as having passed in by there Monday afternoon, but she was unable to weather the cape and proceeded down the shore as far as Nansett harbor, where she struck about two miles south of Nausett life saving station.

The schooner was discovered about nine o'clock the next morning by the keeper, Capt. Knowles, who at once set off in a life boat with a crew, but the sea being so rough nothing could be done.

Life Lines were then Fired to the vessel from the bluffs on the shore. Only three reached the schooner but the vessel's crew were so exhausted that they were unable to haul in the slack and the lines were carried adrift by the undertow and broken.

Supt. Sparrow of this district remained on the scene. When morning dawned of the five men that were seen the day before all had perished with the exception of two in the foretop. They were rescued about 7 o'clock by a boat's crew from a tug that had appeared a short time previous. A tremendous sea is running and the vessel will be a total loss.

The Mate's Terrible Story.

VINEYARD HAVEN, March 16. Steam tug Underwriter, Capt. McDonald, arrived to-day with mate Olsen and one seaman, Andrew Anderson, both of Norway, belonging to schooner J. H. Eells, of Rockport, which vessel sailed from this port Sunday night with a cargo of iron from New York for Boston. Mr. Olsen said they had fine weather to Highland Light, when they encountered a northeast snow storm which blew away the jib. They were obliged to put her before it and run back on the shoals under close reefed sails.

The Vessel Labored Hard

and leaked badly. The captain, finding the pumps unable to keep her free and to prevent her from sinking, ran her ashore three miles south of Nansett light. Soon after the vessel struck everything movable was washed away. The crew took to the rigging. At dark on the 15th Capt. Fred Wallace, of Rockport, Me., lashed himself to a forestay but at daylight nothing could be seen of him, he having been Washed Away During the Night.

The cook, belonging to Rockland, name unknown, was lashed to the foremast head, but died at 9 o'clock last night from exposure.

The two seamen saved managed to keep from freezing by pounding each other until daylight. The Underwriter was from Boston for this port. She arrived at the wreck this morning and immediately sent a boat's crew and succeeded in rescuing the two seamen. They were unable to get the body of the cook. The two men were badly frost bitten and were taken to the Marine Hospital for treatment. The vessel will probably be a total loss.

VIRGINIA.

Special Session of the Legislature.

RICHMOND, March 16. Pursuant to the Governor's call the General Assembly of Virginia met here to-day at noon, in extra session. Both Houses promptly organized and a joint committee was appointed to notify the Governor that the Legislature was ready for business. Soon thereafter a message was received from the Governor and read. The Governor first calls attention to the condition of the public debt. He recommends the appointment of a commission on the part of the State to meet a similar commission on the part of the bondholders, the object being a true presentation of the revenues and resources of the State.

THE BRIDGE DISASTER.

Testimony of Master Mechanic Richards.

BOSTON, March 16. The Railroad Commissioners continued the investigation into the cause of the Forest Hills accident to-day. George Richards, master mechanic of the Boston and Providence road for sixteen years, testified as to the condition of the wreck when he arrived at the disaster. His description tallies with those already published. He further said that the telescoping of the cars seemed to indicate that there must have been a break in some part of the train. Anything that would suddenly stop the forward part of a train would cause such a telescoping. Either the breaking of a truck or a wheel or a derailment would cause it. A simple derailment would not cause trucks to come off when the train was going fifteen miles an hour if on frozen ground. Witness thought the cause of the accident was a partial derailment which must have as there were no signs of any such on the Roslindale side. Had not seen the sleepers on the bridge to notice whether there were any signs of derailment on them. The trucks of the third car must have struck the abutment. Telescoping must have taken place on the bridge before the abutment was reached; the bridge must have been in good condition when the locomotive struck it. When the bridge collapsed it must have done so on the west side first. The locomotive was built in 1880 and weighed 80,000 pounds and the tender about 56,000. The first and second cars were strong and substantial; the third car was of a little different pattern.

Witness had seen nothing in his examination that would indicate a serious weakness in the bridge. Car No. 87 was put into the shop in January last with a broken journal and came out about the 14th of that month. If in this accident a journal broke outside of the wheel it would cause a serious accident, for one of the worst accidents in this State was caused that way.

The Breaking of a Journal

will take off the weight of a car from the wheels and then the wheels will leave the track. Do not know how the breaking of a journal could cause the telescoping of cars which had gone over. That is a mystery. The bridge could not have gone down in an instant. The journal may have broken half a mile away. Broken journals have been known to go forty or fifty miles without accident. This accident may have been caused by derailing this pair of wheels, either on the bridge or before. If it occurred on the bridge it might have given such a shock as to throw it off. Witness could not account for the telescoping of the cars. In reply to Commissioner Kinsley he said he couldn't help thinking that the accident was a train accident and not a bridge accident. He thought the falling of the bridge was a result and not a cause, but how to work it out he could not say. Adjourned till to-morrow.

Sweeping Condemnation of the Bridge.

NEW YORK, March 16. The Engineering News having thoroughly investigated the cause of the Forest Hill disaster, on the Boston and Providence Railroad, will publish the following in this week's issue: The cause of the dreadful catastrophe has been very obscure in the newspaper accounts, the only sure thing having been that the bridge was a sort of a patchwork nondescript, which violated several of the most important and fundamental requirements of good bridge designing. We are now able to shed far more light on what the precise cause was than has hitherto been known, or is likely to appear from any other source, even in the official investigation. We have in that investigation, namely, two original parts, which in all probability were the first to break. The parts are in possession of Mr. Pritchard, C. E., a practical bridge engineer of Philadelphia, who undertook to critically examine the structure on behalf of this journal, and who went about the work apparently more systematically than those who preceded him. In connection with further information gathered for us, when the accident occurred, by F. W. Brooks, these fragments may be said to be

The Cause of the Accident.

So far as can be judged from outside appearances they are made of far from good iron, but in addition to that are of very bad design and most imperfectly welded. In addition they are both very badly flawed at the most strained section, there being two distinct breaks of this kind to each specimen. The first hanger has both breaks across the weld, the first being complete and the second break an inch and a half above but complete, the metal merely hanging together by the skin. This hanger can never have done any work since its original, and now ancient fractures, or it would have broken apart.

All is Clearly Shown in the engravings of the bridge and broken parts which appear in this issue, and the general judgment of engineers bears us out in saying it is a most shamefully bad specimen of bridge designs and workmanship. We regret to have to press so sweeping a condemnation of the structure, but are more than justified and it is but right that in an occurrence of this kind the truth should be pointed out and made clear, without fear or favor. It is appalling to think of tens of thousands of lives which have hung by a thread in passing over this bridge during the past eleven years.

Death of Another Victim.

BOSTON, March 16. Herman W. Young died at his home on Kittredge street, Roslindale this forenoon. He was one of those who were most seriously injured in Monday's railroad disaster. This brings the list of deaths up to 25 and leaves that of killed and injured as previously furnished otherwise unchanged.

NEW YORK.

The Bankers' and Merchants' Telegraph Co.

NEW YORK, March 16. The property of the Bankers and Merchants' Telegraph Co. was sold over a year and a half ago to Edward S. Stokes, on behalf of the United Lines Co. The referee has not filed his report of the sale. Much litigation has followed, brought by the Farmers' Loan and Trust Co. as trustee of the mortgage on the Boston and Maine property. Judge Patterson, in the Supreme Court chambers, to-day decided that the referee must file his report of the sale within ten days, stating the amount received by him and the amount paid, or to show cause therefor.

Death of General George M. Love.

BUFFALO, March 16. Brig. Gen'l George M. Love died here yesterday of pneumonia, after a short illness. He was Colonel of the 116th Regiment of New York Volunteers during the war, and was brevetted Brigadier General for gallant conduct in leading the charge at the Battle of Cedar Creek.

THE CHICAGO BOODLERS.

A Book Keeper Arrested.

CHICAGO, March 16. James T. Connolly, book-keeper for Warden McGarigle, of the County Hospital, and one of the indicted boodlers, was arrested this morning.

The Boodlers Arraigned and Bailed.

The five county officials arrested last night were taken before Judge Anthony, in the Criminal Court, this morning. George Stiles appeared on behalf of the State, and stated that McGarigle, Varnell and McDonald have three indictments pending against them, which respectively charge them with conspiracy to defraud, and declared that one indictment involved complicity in the embezzlement of a sum exceeding $100,000, while the other indictments were for smaller amounts. He asked that these defendants should furnish bail in the sum of $10,000 on each indictment, and that the bail of the employes, Connelly and Driscoll, be placed at $5,000 each. The bail was so fixed.

RAILROAD NEWS.

The Railroads and the New Law.

WASHINGTON, March 16. The General Passenger and Ticket Agents' Association to-day unanimously adopted a resolution, expressing the desire of the Association to act in harmony with the Inter-State commerce law and pledging the Association to a strict adherence to its provisions. The convention adopted the recommendation of the National Association of Baggage Agents, that 150 pounds of baggage be fixed as the limit for each full ticket and referred to the various local associations the recommendation of the baggage agents that a uniform rate of 15 per cent. on excess of baggage be established.

ANOTHER HORRIBLE ACCIDENT.

A Locomotive Goes Off a Trestle

And Plunges Ninety Feet Down an Abyss.

Two Men Instantly Killed and Three Probably Fatally Injured.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., March 16. A horrible accident happened twelve miles from here this morning, on the Marietta Mineral Railroad. A heavy mixed train had just passed Vincent station when a train was divided in order to cross more safely a trestle ninety feet high. The first section passed over all right, when the engine, bearing Engineer Vincent, Fireman Albert Bushley, Brakeman Stewart and Conductor McCoy and a passenger named Early returned for section two. When the highest point of the trestle was reached the engine gave a sudden jerk and plunged straight down to the abyss below, carrying all on board with it. Vincent and Bushley were instantly killed. Their bodies were scarcely recognizable. Bushley had his head severed from his body and one leg off, while Vincent was Cut in Two.

Conductor McCoy was under the heavy engine nearly half an hour before he was taken out. The escaping steam probably fatally scalded his head, face and body. Brakeman Stewart was terribly scalded and there are but faint hopes of his recovery. Mr. Early, the passenger, had both legs broken and was injured internally. He is said to be dying. The place into which the engine plunged is a yawning abyss, at the bottom of which is a rocky stream. The section which the engine was returning for had passenger coaches loaded, and the loss of life would have been frightful had the accident happened while returning with them.

THE NEW CRUISERS.

The Boston, Atlanta and Chicago Nearly Completed.

WASHINGTON, March 16. Chief Constructor Wilson to-day received a telegram from Naval Constructor Steel, at Chester, Pa., stating that work is again progressing on the Chicago. Notwithstanding the fact that a number new inventions and appliances not contemplated in the scheme of the advisory board have been placed on the cruisers, the Department is confident that they can be completed at a cost within the estimate as the board so far as concerns the work of construction and engineering.

It is believed the total cost of finishing the engineering work on the Chicago will be $46,000 less than the estimates, and in the case of the Boston and Atlanta $15,000 and $13,000 respectively. The figures include the cost of the new appliances above referred to, such as ice machines, separators and electric light plants. The Atlanta was ordered to be docked at New York to-day to have her bottom cleaned and painted. She is now being fitted with separators to prevent foaming in the boilers and will be despatched on another trial trip in a short time.

The Boston, now at New York is being fitted with ice machines, electric lights and steam separators, and will be ready for a trial trip within a few weeks. The Chicago is not so far advanced towards completion as the other two, although practically finished. She will be removed from Chester to the New York navy yard next week. The engineering bureau feel that the vessel is already assured to be first-class.

The amount of snow has been ten feet and four inches, or about two feet and six inches more than the average annual snow fall. The amount of rain within this period has been 13.32 inches and the entire precipitation, that is rain and melted snow, 25.72 inches.

HE WASN'T SLIGHTED. A good story is told in connection with the selling of the new book, "Eastern Maine and the Rebellion." An agent called on a merchant, who subscribed. Later, during his absence, another agent called at his place of business, and the clerk, thinking his employer would want the work, put down his name for book number two. On the return of the merchant, the clerk told him what he had done, but, as the extra book could be easily disposed of not much was said. At noon time the business man went home to dinner, and was then informed by his good wife that she had subscribed for book number three. The merchant thinks the work will have a good sale in his neighborhood.

PALMER DISCHARGED. Henry Palmer, the fellow who advertised for two hundred girls, offering to furnish them with work and eight dollars a week pay, and who was arrested on charge of making a fraudulent use of the United States Mail, and who was taken to Portland, Saturday last, was brought before United States Commissioner Rand in that city yesterday for examination and after the evidence had been heard he was discharged, the Commissioner holding that his arrest was made before he had had time to answer the letters sent him, and that therefore the charge of fraud was not proven. The witnesses for this city returned home last night. B. L. Smith, Esq., of this city defended the accused.

PINE GROVE GRANGE. One of the most active, vigorous and enterprising grange organizations to be found in this State, holds its regular weekly meetings at Pine Grove Hall, Brewer. It is only necessary for them to give out notice that they have an important work on hand and that their members are to engage in it to fill the hall to its utmost capacity. Last Monday evening a continuance of the literary contest which has been going on for several weeks was the special feature that called out large numbers of patrons from the neighboring granges, and they were well repaid for their visit. The readings, speeches and quotations were given in quick succession by the contestants in the most creditable manner. The grange is to be furnished a splendid supper by the defeated side at the end of the contest, which will be within a few weeks. They had as they deserved an appreciative and intelligent audience, who evidenced their appreciation of those who took part by enthusiastic applause. Short speeches were made by several visiting members. Meetings conducted upon such principles are of the greatest value to all present, as they not only amuse but educate in the right direction.

SUMMER ARRANGEMENTS. The new Maine Central train, composed entirely of Pullman palace cars, to run from Boston to Bar Harbor, via Lewiston, will be a whizzer. It will run about forty miles an hour, will leave Boston at 8.30 in the morning and will reach Bar Harbor at 5.30 P.M. Between Portland and Bar Harbor it will stop only at Danville Junction (for the Poland Spring traffic) Lewiston, Waterville, Bangor and Ellsworth. It may make fewer stops if an arrangement is made for supplying the locomotive with water. The Maine Central managers now talk of adopting the Pennsylvania plan of tanks between the tracks, from which the locomotive can scoop up water as it rushes along. Probably they will either do this or greatly enlarge the tanks in the locomotive tenders. The new bridge across the arm of Lake Maranacook is built with the great weight of this heavy Pullman train in view. On the other branch of the Maine Central the Flying Yankee will run as usual, but may make a few more stops, a matter which the Maine Central managers have under advisement, is the construction of a double track between Gardiner and Augusta. It has become almost a necessity. It is hard work to keep the through passenger trains and accommodation trains and freight trains clear of each other.

THE B. AND P. ROAD.

Annual Meeting of the Stockholders—Election of Directors and Other Officials.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Bangor and Piscataquis Railroad Company was held in the Common Council room yesterday forenoon with a good attendance, representing more than one-fifth part of the whole amount of the capital stock of the Company paid in.

The meeting was called to order by President A. G. Wakefield, who read the articles of the call for the meeting. Article first was then taken up and the report of the Directors was read by Treasurer H. W. Blood. [The full text of the Directors' and Treasurer's reports will be found on the first page.] The report was accepted. The Treasurer's report was then read and also accepted.

The second article was then taken up and balloting for Directors resulted in the election of the following gentlemen: A. G. Wakefield, E. B. Nealley, C. P. Stetson, C. L. Marston, John Cassidy, L. J. Morse, Isaac Strickland, F. O. Beal and B. B. Thatcher. Alderman Davenport cast the city vote.

The third and fourth articles were then taken up and it was voted to refer them to a committee consisting of E. B. Nealley, L. J. Morse, A. M. Robinson, F. O. Beal, George Stetson and W. H. Strickland to consider and report at an adjourned meeting.

It was voted that a committee be appointed to consult with the municipal officers of Bangor, and with other stockholders of the company in making up a board of directors to be recommended for election by the stockholders at the next annual meeting, and the following gentlemen were appointed on this committee: Newell Blake, George Stetson, Lysander Strickland, A. M. Robinson and G. W. Ladd.

The meeting then adjourned to meet in three weeks.

DIRECTORS' MEETING.

A meeting of the directors was then held and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, A. G. Wakefield, but he declined the office and E. B. Nealley was chosen; Superintendent, Arthur Brown; Clerk and Treasurer, H. W. Blood.

The meeting was full of interest to those present and several speeches were made.

AMUSEMENTS.

"Fatinitza" to Good Houses.

The matinee was well attended yesterday afternoon and the opera of "Fatinitza" was well presented by the Bennett & Moulton Opera Company. The principal parts were, as usual, finely taken and the same is true of the chorus. Ben Lodge as "Mustapha" was very funny and his make-up simply stunning. The evening performance was attended by a crowded house and was a repetition of the same opera, with the same successful presentation.

This evening the popular "Chimes of Normandy" will be given.

State Taxation.

The State tax bill was reported by the finance committee, and passed to be engrossed by the House and Senate this afternoon. This bill will carry joy to every town and city in the State, as there is a great reduction of the tax of last year and the year before. The total amount that the State will raise by taxation in 1887 is fixed at $649,497.11, and in 1888 a like amount will be raised. This sum is apportioned to the various counties as follows; the reduction being shown by comparison with the figures of last year:

	1887.	1886.
Androscoggin	$ 57,239 80	$ 98,016 77
Aroostook	20,?31 03	28,439 88

Scrofula

Is one of the most fatal scourges which afflict mankind. It is often inherited, but may be the result of improper vaccination, mercurial poison, uncleanliness, and various other causes. Chronic Sores, Ulcers, Abscesses, Cancerous Humors, and, in some cases, Emaciation and Consumption, result from a scrofulous condition of the blood. This disease can be cured by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

I inherited a scrofulous condition of the blood, which caused a derangement of my whole system. After taking less than four bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla I am and, for the past year, have not found it necessary to use any medicine whatever. I am now in better health, and stronger, than ever before.—O. A. Willard, 218 Tremont st., Boston, Mass.

I was troubled with Scrofulous Sores for five years; but, after using a few bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the sores healed, and I have now good health.—Elizabeth Warnock, 54 Appleton street, Lowell, Mass.

Some months ago I was troubled with Scrofulous Sores on my leg. The limb was badly swollen and inflamed, and the sores discharged large quantities of offensive matter. Every remedy failed until I used Ayer's Sarsaparilla. By taking three bottles of this medicine the sores have been healed, and my health is restored. I am grateful for the good it has done me.—Mrs. Ann O'Brian, 158 Sullivan st., New York.

TRUE'S PIN WORM ELIXIR!
A WONDERFUL REMEDY!
MARVELOUS IN ITS EFFECTS!
Mothers, save your children from the annoying and fatal effects of pin worms, by giving
DR. JOHN F. TRUE'S

Pin Worm Elixir.
A GREAT DISCOVERY!

It is claimed to be the safest, most potent and most effectual remedy known for this child killing Disease. As a cathartic vermifuge it has no equal. It expels all kinds of worms, and in fact all living creatures that infest the bowels of suffering humanity, are triumphantly expelled by this truly wonderful remedy. Testimony in its favor comes in from all sections where it is known. It not only effectually removes from the system these troublesome and disagreeable worms, but children who have been weak and puny for years, are at once improved and restored to health by its use. Being a mild and gentle laxative, it is a corrective of the greatest value. It is purely vegetable and cannot be beat. It has also expelled several lizards. One eight inches in length, is spotted, belongs to the water species and looks like a veritable young alligator. Fits caused by worms and indigestion.

Love of the Occult.

The Baser Superstitions of Former Ages and the Beliefs of Modern Times—The Faith Cure—Country-Folks' Notions—Palmistry, Mesmerism, Phrenology.

The recent widespread revival of interest in the faith-cure has attracted attention to those antiquated forms of superstition the knowledge of which was believed to give to wizards, soothsayers, and astrologers the power of forecasting the future and of determining by signs and omens the destinies of individuals. Many of these baser beliefs that are popularly supposed to have been thrust long since into oblivion, together with exploded theories, worn-out formulas, and fruitless experiments, still exist in one shape or another, and by their communities show that the yearning for the supernatural has by no means been eradicated from the average intellect.

A great Roman general once embarked his legions and started on an expedition. The galleys had barely dropped out of the arbor when the soothsayers approached him in dismay, telling him that the sacred chickens would not eat. "Let them drink, then" profanely exclaimed the commander, as he kicked their cages into the sea. Soldiers and sailors were alike dumfounded by this act of impiety, which they said boded ill for them, and the annalist records that the expedition ended in a disastrous failure.

Conditions have changed since then, and yet even to-day it is difficult to get sailors to leave port on Friday, and the exodus of rats or other vermin from a vessel, be she ever so staunch, fills them with apprehension. Card-players and gamblers are particularly susceptible to petty forms of superstition. One player will not sit down to a game unless he can have his customary old straw hat to wear. Another will turn savagely and curse a spectator who may chance innocently to put his foot on a round of the gambler's chair. The superstitions among country folk with regard to changes in the weather are innumerable, and flowers, precious stones, and metals have their respective languages. The superstition that a knife received by one friend from another is a sign that their friendly relations will be severed in the near future still prevails, and the precaution of giving a penny in exchange for the knife as a means of avoiding such a result is generally practiced.

Palmistry, an art formerly practised extensively by withered old women, has experienced a curious transformation. From the thatched hut and damp cave it has been transferred to the drawing-room and parlor, and many young ladies amuse themselves by telling the fortunes of visitors or callers. Very frequently these attractive fortune-tellers have been to considerable pains to investigate and to learn thoroughly the mysteries of the art as set forth in numerous books and pamphlets. The typical forms of the hands and fingers the signs in the palms formed by lines, circles, squares, triangles, and the significance of the mounts at the base of each finger, must all be thoroughly studied and understood in order to tell a fortune with promptness and accuracy. Nothing arouses the indignation of the fortune-teller quicker than to doubt the truth of the story which her skill enables her to read from an open hand.

Mesmerism is so far from having died out that a spirited discussion is at present going on among its supporters as to what actually induces the mesmeric state—some claiming that it is self-induced, and others that it is caused by the impartation of "mesmerine" from the mesmerizer to his subject.

Phrenology is not strictly popular in Chicago for two reasons, it is said. One is that people do not like to be diagnosed either physically or mentally, and the other and principal one is that phrenologists do not claim to arrive at their conclusions by any other means than an analysis as it were, of the cranological, physiological, and pathological constitutions of their subjects. In short, the genuine phrenologist lays claim to no supernatural insight. For this reason his clientele is composed largely of professional men who are interested in self-education. The ignorant classes shun the phrenologist for the reason that he does not even pretend to satisfy their cravings for the supernatural. They prefer to consult the magicians, fortune-tellers, and clairvoyants who have had long practice in reading destinies from the stars and in casting nativities, who cause the single to be married and the married to be contented, who restore lost love, and who read character by the handwriting or a lock of the hair.

While spiritualism, as understood by its genuine devotees, is not to be included in the same category with some of the superstitions already mentioned, it partakes, nevertheless, of the supernatural to a greater extent than any of them in its manifestations. Its doctrines are said to be infiltrating the churches everywhere, and it is estimated that there are not less than 20,000 spiritualists in Chicago. A few months ago a number of people organized a society for physical research for the purpose of investigating the genuineness of spirit manifestations.—Chicago News.

An American Style Is Coming.

Manufacturers of textile fabrics have long regretted that fashions originate in Paris. They have seen that if an American style could be developed it would be money in their pockets and work for their looms. American taste is being developed, and an American style is coming. We recognize French, German or Japanese style, but heretofore American style has consisted in servile aping of foreign styles.—Philadelphia Record.

The Paraldehyde Habit Comes Next.

Opium eaters appear to be unfortunate in their attempts to find a royal road out of their habit. Those who sought a painless cure in cocaine found the cocaine habit worse than the opium, and quite recently a case is reported in Paris of a man suffering from "the paraldehyde habit," which he acquired while subduing his mania for morphine. Paraldehyde was introduced into medicine in 1883.—Medical Journal.

Forty-four Tons of Wickedness.

The twelfth anniversary of the New York Society for the Suppression of Vice was held not long ago. Thirty-five tons of obscene matter and eight and a half tons of gambling implements were seized during the year, and over 1,000 arrests were made. The fines imposed and bail bonds forfeited, over $1,440,000 were secured to the public treasury.—Exchange.

No Chance for the Presidency.

"Mamma," said a little Fifth ward boy, lugubriously the other day as he laid down a volume of biographical sketches of the presidents, "I don't believe I'll ever be a president. I ain't got the chance I wasn't brung up right." "Why, child, you have the same chance that other little boys have." "No, I ain't. I wasn't born in a log cabin, nor I ain't drove a team on the canal, nor had to read the spellin'-book by the light of a pine knot, nor had to split rails, nor nothin' like the rest of the boys who got there. I tell you, mother, I'm handicapped on this presidential business.—Elmira Gazette."

Changes Which Deadwood Has Undergone

Deadwood has now a population of between 3,000 and 4,000, and is quite a different place from what it was in the early days of its history. The migratory class of people which was attracted thither by the discovery of gold has mostly disappeared, having passed farther west to Idaho and the other new mining regions. Still our mining interests are panning out quite favorably.—Deadwood Cor. Chicago News.

A Senator Learns a Pointer.

A new member of the United States senate has learned a pointer. "I am afraid," he said, "to sit in my seat when a senator begins a set speech, lest those who see me listening think I am verdant. I go out with the others. An old senator said to me recently that I was 'green' to listen to these long speeches, and that a new senator could be pointed out by his patience in hearing them.—Chicago Tribune.

Ben Wade and the Restaurateur.

What the Senator Said to the Man Who Ran the Senate "Cook Shop."

Ben Wade, of Ohio, when he was elected president pro tempore of the senate, enjoyed the privilege of appointing the keeper of the senate restaurant. That establishment, elegantly fitted up in the basement story of the senate wing of the capitol, brilliantly lighted and supplied with coal and ice, was enjoyed rent free by the person fortunate enough to obtain it. It was customary, however, for him to send a good lunch every day to the vice president's room, without charge.

At the commencement of the July session of 1867, the restaurateur, hearing that he was to be superseded by a caterer from Cincinnati, called on Mr. Wade and said, obsequiously: "I am the keeper of the senate restaurant, senator." "Oh, yes," replied Mr. Wade, "you run the cook shop downstairs, don't you?" "Yes, sir," was the reply, with a low bow. "Well," said Mr. Wade, "what can I do for you, what do you want?" "I have called to express my wish, sir, that I can continue to keep the restaurant, and anything you want, sir, you have only to send a page downstairs, and it shall be sent to you quick as a flash, without costing you a cent, sir."

Just then Mr. Wade appeared to recollect something, and looking the man directly in the eye, said "Oh, I don't want you to feed me; when I do I will pay for what I eat like other people. But listen: Complaint has been made to me that you don't treat the little pages fairly or kindly. They complain that they can't get anything to eat except expensive things for which they have to pay a large price. Now, sir, just remember that these pages are our boys, and you had better overcharge senators, who are able to pay, than these little chaps who want to save all of their wages that they can for their mothers. You must be civil and kind to these pages, sir, or I'll have you moved out of your cook shop and put in some one there who will treat the boys well."

The restaurateur promised that he would do so, and bowed his way out. Mr. Wade made inquiry of the pages from time to time, and found that they were civilly treated, and that lunches of reasonable cost were provided for them.—Ben: Perley Poore.

For the Protection of Horses.

A man in Kalamazoo, Mich., has, in a convenient locality near the business center of the town, erected 157 horse-sheds. Connected with them is a waiting-room and restaurant, where ladies and gentlemen coming into town on business can leave their bundles and extra wraps and get a comfortable meal, while the horses are tied under cover and away from exposure. Ten cents pays the man who takes your team, when you get out of the carriage, ties and covers up your horse, and waters and brings him to the door again when ordered. Another dime will get him a feed of oats. It is worth all it costs, not only as protection and care of the animal, but also as a convenience to the owner. And for ladies it is a great convenience.—Chicago Journal.

A Fiji Prince Offered Inducements.

A Fiji prince has been paying a short visit to London. Many zealous Christians were in hopes that he would be converted to Christianity ere he left the first Christian city of the world, but in that they were disappointed. Instead of going to Westminster Abbey and paying the verger sixpence to take about old tombstones he went to the dizziest theatres he could find. More than that he fell in love with a fair actress and proposed marriage to her. When, to his great astonishment, she refused him, he offered as an inducement to kill off his other four wives as soon as he got home. But the Anglo-Saxon soubrette still refused him, and he went back to his princely home a sad and lonely man.—Chicago Tribune.

Vaccination Practiced in Japan.

The Japanese do not appear to have lost any of their faith in the efficacy of vaccination for the small-pox. They have just enacted a very stringent law on the subject, for, besides ordinary vaccination in the first year of infancy, it provides for at least two subsequent revaccinations at intervals of from five to seven years, so that by the time a child has reached its fifteenth year it will have been vaccinated three times. Besides, during epidemics of small-pox, local authorities have power, when they deem it necessary, to order the vaccination of all the inhabitants of their districts, irrespective of the vaccination required by the law.—Nature.

"College Life" with Illustrations.

A New York daily has struck out a new feature. It is writing up college life with woodcuts, depicting the rooms of rich students. They show tables covered with pipes, cigar boxes, boxing gloves, French novels, etc. If the boys had only known that the artist was coming round they could have had six or eight lexicons and a few abstruse scientific works in the foreground.—Boston Transcript.

TAINTED BLOOD,

SCROFULOUS, INHERITED AND CONTAGIOUS HUMORS CURED BY CUTICURA.

Through the medium of one of your books received through Mr. Frank T. Wray, Druggist, Apollo, Pa., I became acquainted with your Cuticura Remedies, and take this opportunity to testify to you that their use has permanently cured me of one of the worst cases of blood poisoning, in connection with erysipelas, that I have ever seen, and this after having been pronounced incurable by some of the best physicians in our county. I take great pleasure in forwarding to you this testimonial, unsolicited as it is by you, in order that others suffering from similar maladies may be encouraged to give your Cuticura Remedies a trial.
P. S. WHITLINGER, Leechburg, Pa.

SCROFULOUS ULCERS.

James E. Richardson, Custom House, New Orleans, on oath says: "In 1870 Scrofulous Ulcers broke out on my body until I was a mass of corruption. Everything known to the medical faculty was tried in vain. I became a mere wreck. At times could not lift my hands to my head, could not turn in bed; was in constant pain, and looked upon life as a curse. No relief or cure in ten years. In 1880 I heard of the Cuticura Remedies, used them, and was perfectly cured."
Sworn to before U. S. Com. J. D. CRAWFORD.

ONE OF THE WORST CASES.

We have been selling your Cuticura Remedies for years, and have the first complaint yet to receive from a purchaser. One of the worst cases of Scrofula I ever saw was cured by the use of five bottles of Cuticura Resolvent, Cuticura, and Cuticura Soap. The Soap takes the "cake" here as a medicinal soap. DRUGGISTS USE THEM.

We have obtained satisfactory results from the use of the Cuticura Remedies in our own family, and recommend them beyond any other remedies for diseases of the skin and blood. The demand for them grows as their merits become known.

Choking Catarrh.

Have you awakened from a disturbed sleep with all the horrible sensations of an assassin clutching your throat and pressing the life-breath from your tightened chest? Have you noticed the languor and debility that succeed the effort to clear your throat and head of this catarrhal matter? What a depressing influence it exerts upon the mind, clouding the memory and filling the head with pains and strange noises! How difficult it is to rid the nasal passages, throat and lungs of this poisonous mucus all can testify who are afflicted with catarrh. How difficult to protect the system against its further progress towards the lungs, liver and kidneys, all physicians will admit. It is a terrible disease, and cries out for relief and cure.

The remarkable curative powers, when all other remedies utterly fail, of Sanford's Radical Cure, are attested by thousands who gratefully recommend it to fellow-sufferers. No statement is made regarding it that cannot be substantiated by the most respectable and reliable references.

Each packet contains one bottle of the Radical Cure, one box of Catarrhal Solvent, and an Improved Inhaler, with treatise and directions, and is sold by all druggists for $1.00.

A Medicine, Not a Drink.

HIGH AUTHORITY.

Hop Bitters is not in any sense, an alcoholic beverage or liquor, and could not be sold, for use, except to persons desirous of obtaining medicinal bitters.
GREEN B. RAUM,
U. S. Com'r Internal Rev.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 24, 1884.

Dear Sir—Why don't you get a certificate from Col. W. H. W., of Baltimore, showing how he cured himself of drunkenness by the help of Hop Bitters. His is a wonderful case. He is well known in Rochester, N. Y., by all the drinking people there. He is known in this city, Cincinnati, New Orleans, New York; in fact all over the country, as he has spent thousands of dollars for rum. I honestly believe his card would be worth thousands of dollars to you in this city and Baltimore alone, and make thousands of sober men by inducing the use of your bitters.
J. A. W.

PREJUDICE KILLS.

"Eleven years our daughter suffered on a bed of misery under the care of several of the best physicians, who gave her disease various names but no relief and now she is restored to us in good health by Hop Bitters, that we had poohed at two years before using it. We earnestly hope and pray that no one else will let their sick suffer as we did, on account of prejudice against so good a medicine as Hop Bitters."—The Parents—Good Templars.

MILTON, Del., Feb. 10, 1886.

Having used Hop Bitters the noted remedy for debility, nervousness, indigestion, etc., I have no hesitation in saying that it is indeed an excellent medicine and recommend it to any one as a truly tonic bitters.
Respectfully,
Rev. MRS. J. H. ELLGOOD.

Scipio, N. Y., Dec. 1, 1884.

I am the pastor of the Baptist church here and an educated physician. I am not in practice, but am my sole family physician, and advise in chronic cases. Over a year ago I recommended your Hop Bitters to my invalid wife, who has been under medical treatment of Albany's best physicians several years. She has been greatly benefited and still uses the medicine. I believe she will become thoroughly cured of her various complicated diseases by their use. We both recommend them to our friends, many of whom have also been cured of their various ailments by them.
REV. E. R. WARREN.

CURED OF DRINKING.

"A young friend of mine was cured of an insatiable thirst for liquor that had so prostrated his system that he was unable to do any business. He was entirely cured by the use of Hop Bitters. It allayed all that burning thirst; took away the appetite for liquor; made his nerves steady; and he has remained a steady and sober man for more than two years, and has no desire to return to his cups, and I know of a number of others that have been cured of drinking by it."—From a leading R. R. Official, Chicago, Ill.

LETTER CARRIERS.

All letters are delivered free by carriers when addressed to street and number. People should inform their correspondents of above and have their letters addressed accordingly.

Persons leaving their address at the General Delivery can also have their letters sent, but it is much more convenient to have the street and number on, and they will be delivered earlier than if the same is put on at the office. Carriers make two deliveries daily, the first trip supplying the extremes of their routes.

Collections are made morning, noon and evening in season for important mails.

Holidays the Carrier's Window will be open for the delivery of letters from 8½ to 9½ A. M., and from 8 to 8½ P. M. Sundays from 8½ to 9½ A. M.

Any irregularities in the Carrier's department should be reported to the office.

IMMEDIATE DELIVERY.

Messenger boys are constantly in attendance to deliver letters with immediate delivery stamps on arrival of all mails, and for local letters from 6 A. M. to 8.30 P. M., at which hour the office is closed. Persons depositing city letters will please pass them into the general delivery.

Letters arriving from West Sunday morning are delivered on arrival.

ENVELOPES.

No additional charge will be made for printing the name and request to return, across the left hand upper corner of the envelopes furnished by the Post Office Department, (samples of which may be seen at the Cashier's window) when ordered in lots of not less than 500.

A request for the return of a letter to the writer, if unclaimed within thirty days or less, written or printed, with the writers name, post office and State, across the left end of the envelope, on the face side, will be complied with.

The public are earnestly recommended to procure Stamped envelopes with printed return request, as the expense is less, and letters thus endorsed, if not delivered to the person addressed, are returned to the writer free of charge.

First class envelopes of above furnished at $22 20 per thousand.

Stamps cut from Stamped Envelopes cannot be used to prepay postage. The use of such Stamps is punishable by a fine of fifty dollars.

Stamped Envelopes, spoiled in directing, are redeemed at this office.

DOMESTIC POSTAGE.

Upon matter of third or fourth class the sender may write his own name or address with the word "from," without extra charge for postage.

Third and fourth class matter may be registered same as first class, on payment of the register fee of 10 cents.

ADVERTISED LETTERS.

All letters remaining in the office are advertised on Monday of each week. If not claimed in ONE MONTH thereafter, they are then forwarded to the Dead Letter office.

MONEY ORDERS.

Especial attention is called to the Money Order system, as a safe and cheap method of transmitting in small sums through the mails. Orders are issued for sums of not more than one hundred dollars. Larger amounts can be transmitted to the same person, at the same time, by additional orders.

RATES.

On orders not exceeding $10,	8 cents
Over $10 and not exceeding $15,	10 cents
Over $15 and not exceeding $30,	15 cents
Over $30 and not exceeding $40,	20 cents
Over $40 and not exceeding $50,	25 cents
Over $50 and not exceeding $60,	30 cents
Over $60 and not exceeding $70,	35 cents
Over $70 and not exceeding $80,	40 cents
Over $80 and not exceeding $100,	45 cents

Postal notes can also be obtained payable at any money order office for any sum less than $5 00 for a fee of three cents.

A single Money Order may include any amount from one cent to one hundred dollars inclusive, but must not contain a fractional part of a cent.

Money Orders can also be obtained on England, Ireland, Scotland, Wales, Switzerland, German States, and nearly all prominent countries.

Never put Money in a Letter—Always Procure a Money Order.

If money is to be remitted, a Postal Money Order should be obtained. If upon points where there is no Money Order Office, then the letter should be Registered. Money should never be enclosed in an ordinary letter.

Office Hours—From 8 A. M. to 6 P. M.

REGISTRY DEPARTMENT.

All valuable letters should be Registered, unless a Money Order is obtained. Under the present system of Registration, letters are transmitted with perfect safety.

Letters may be Registered by paying postage in full and a Registration fee in stamps, for—
United States, 10 cents
Great Britain and Ireland, and all Countries having a postal treaty with the United States, 10 cents

Love of the Occult

The Baser Superstitions of Former Ages and the Beliefs of Modern Times—The Faith Cure—Country-Folks Notions—Palmistry, Mesmerism, Phrenology.

The recent widespread revival of interest in the faith-cure has attracted attention to those antiquated forms of superstition the knowledge of which was believed to give to wizards soothsayers, and astrologers the power of forecasting the future and of determining by signs and omens the destinies of individuals Many of these baser beliefs that are popularly supposed to have been thrust long since into oblivion, together with exploded theories worn-out formulas, and fruitless experiments still exist in one shape or another and by their communities show that the yearning for the supernatural has by no means been eradicated from the average intellect

A great Roman general once embarked his legions and started on an expedition The galleys had barely dropped out of the harbor when the soothsayers approached him in dismay, telling him that the sacred chickens would not eat 'Let them drink then' profanely exclaimed the commander as he kicked their cages into the sea. Soldiers and sailors were alike dumfounded by this act of impiety which they said boded ill for them, and the annalist records that the expedition ended in a disastrous failure

Conditions have changed since then, and yet even to-day it is difficult to get sailors to leave port on Friday, and an exodus of rats or other vermin from a vessel be she ever so stanch fills them with apprehension Card players and gamblers are particularly susceptible to petty forms of superstition One player will not sit down to a game unless he can have his customary old straw hat to wear Another will turn savagely and curse a spectator who may chance innocently to put his foot on a round of the gambler's chair The superstitions among country folk with regard to changes in the weather are innumerable and flowers precious stones and metals have their respective languages The superstition that a knife received by one friend from another is a sign that their friendly relations will be severed in the near future still prevails, and the precaution of giving a penny in exchange for the knife as a means of avoiding such a result is generally practiced

Palmistry an art formerly practised extensively by withered old women has experienced a curious transformation From the thatched hut and damp cave it has been transferred to the drawing room and parlor and many young ladies amuse themselves by telling the fortunes of visitors or callers Very frequently these attractive fortune tellers have been to considerable pains to investigate and to learn thoroughly the mysteries of the art as set forth in numerous books and pamphlets The typical forms of the hands and fingers the signs in the palms formed by lines circles squares, triangles and the significance of the mounts at the base of each finger must all be thoroughly studied and understood in order to tell a fortune with promptness and accuracy Nothing arouses the indignation of the fortune teller quicker than to doubt the truth of the story which her skill enables her to read from an open hand

Mesmerism is so far from having died out that a spirited discussion is at present going on among its supporters as to what actually induces the mesmeric state—some claiming that it is self induced and others that it is caused by the impartation of mesmerine' from the mesmerizer to his subject

Phrenology is not strictly popular in Chicago for two reasons it is said One is that people do not like to be diagnosed either physically or mentally and the other and principal one is that phrenologists do not claim to arrive at their conclusions by any other means than an analysis as it were, of the craniological, physiological and pathological constitutions of their subjects In short the genuine phrenologist lays claim to no supernatural insight For this reason his clientele is composed largely of professional men who are interested in self education The ignorant classes shun the phrenologist for the reason that he does not even pretend to satisfy their cravings for the supernatural They prefer to consult the magicians, fortune tellers and clairvoyants who have had long practice in reading destinies from the stars and in casting nativities, who cause the single to be married and the married to be contented who restore lost love and who read character by the handwriting or a lock of the hair

While spiritualism as understood by its genuine devotees is not to be included in the same category with some of the superstitions already mentioned it partakes, nevertheless of the supernatural to a greater extent than any of them in its manifestations Its doctrines are said to be infiltrating the churches everywhere, and it is estimated that there are not less than 20 000 spiritualists in Chicago A few months ago a number of people organized a society for physical research for the purpose of investigating the genuineness of spirit manifestations —Chicago News

Manufacturers of textile fabrics have long regretted that fashions originate in Paris They have seen that if an American style could be developed it would be money in their pockets and work for their looms American taste is being developed and an American style is coming We recognize French German or Japanese style but heretofore American style has consisted in servile aping of foreign styles —Philadelphia Record

The Paraldehyde Habit Comes Next

Opium eaters appear to be unfortunate in their attempts to find a royal road out of their habit Those who sought a painless cure in cocaine found the cocaine habit worse than the opium, and quite recently a case is reported in Paris of a man suffering from 'the paraldehyde habit' which he acquired while subduing his mania for morphine Paraldehyde was introduced into medicine in 1883 —Medical Journal

No Chance for the Presidency

"Mamma" said a little Fifth ward boy, lugubriously the other day as he laid down a volume of biographical sketches of the presidents, "I don't believe I'll ever be a president I ain't got the chance I wasn't brung up right" 'Why, child you have the same chance that other little boys have" "No, I ain't. I wasn't born in a log cabin, nor I ain't drove a team on the canal, nor had to read the spellin'-book by the light of a pine knot, nor had to split rails, nor nothin' like the rest of the boys who got there I tell you, mother, I'm handicapped on this presidential business —Elmira Gazette"

Changes Which Deadwood Has Undergone

Deadwood has now a population of between 3 000 and 4 000, and is quite a different place from what it was in the early days of its history The migratory class of people which was attracted thither by the discovery of gold has mostly disappeared, having passed farther west to Idaho and the other new mining regions. Still our mining interests are panning out quite favorably —Deadwood Cor. Chicago News.

A Senator Learns a Pointer

A new member of the United States senate has learned a pointer "I am afraid," he said, "to sit in my seat when a senator begins a set speech, lest those who see me listening think I am verdant I go out with the others. An old senator said to me recently that I was 'green' to listen to these long speeches, and that a new senator could be pointed out by his patience in hearing them.—Chicago Tribune

A tremendous crop of peaches is looked for this year.

Ben Wade and the Restaurateur.

What the Senator Said to the Man Who Ran the Senate "Cook Shop."

Ben Wade, of Ohio, when he was elected president pro tempore of the senate, enjoyed the privilege of appointing the keeper of the senate restaurant. That establishment, elegantly fitted up in the basement story of the senate wing of the capitol, brilliantly lighted and supplied with coal and ice, was enjoyed rent free by the person fortunate enough to obtain it It was customary, however, for him to send a good lunch every day to the vice president's room, without charge

At the commencement of the July session of 1867, the restaurateur, hearing that he was to be superseded by a caterer from Cincinnati called on Mr Wade and said obsequiously I am the keeper of the senate restaurant, senator" "Oh yes" replied Mr Wade you run the cook shop downstairs don't you?" "Yes, sir" was the reply, with a low bow "Well' said Mr Wade, "what can I do for you, what do you want?" 'I have called to express my wish, sir that I can continue to keep the restaurant and anything you want sir you have only to send a page downstairs and it shall be sent to you quick as a flash, without costing you a cent, sir

Just then Mr Wade appeared to recollect something and looking the man directly in the eye said 'Oh, I don't want you to feed me when I do I will pay for what I eat like other people But listen Complaint has been made to me that you don't treat the little pages fairly or kindly They complain that they can't get anything to eat except expensive things for which they have to pay a large price Now, sir just remember that these pages are our boys, and you had better overcharge senators, who are able to pay than these little chaps who want to save all of their wages that they can for their mothers You must be civil and kind to these pages sir or I'll have you moved out of your cook shop and put in some one there who will treat the boys well

The restaurateur promised that he would do so and bowed his way out Mr Wade made inquiry of the pages from time to time and found that they were civilly treated and that lunches of reasonable cost were provided for them —Ben Perley Poore

A man in Kalamazoo Mich has, in a convenient locality near the business center of the town, erected 157 horse sheds Connected with them is a waiting room and restaurant where ladies and gentlemen coming into town on business can leave their bundles and extra wraps and get a comfortable meal while the horses are tied under cover and away from exposure Ten cents pays the man who takes your team when you get out of the carriage ties and covers up your horse and waters and brings him to the door again when ordered Another dime will get him a feed of oats It is worth all it costs not only as protection and care of the animal but also as a convenience to the owner And for ladies it is a great convenience —Chicago Journal

A Fiji Prince Offered Inducements

A Fiji prince has been paying a short visit to London Many zealous Christians were in hopes that he would be converted to Christianity ere he left the first Christian city of the world but in that they were disappointed Instead of going to Westminster Abbey and paying the verger sixpence to talk about old tombstones he went to the dizziest theatres he could find More than that he fell in love with a fair actress and proposed marriage to her When to his great astonishment, she refused him he offered as an inducement to kill off his other four wives as soon as he got home But the Anglo-Saxon soubrette still refused him and he went back to his princely home a sad and lonely man —Chicago Tribune

Vaccination Practiced in Japan

The Japanese do not appear to have lost any of their faith in the efficacy of vaccination for the small pox They have just enacted a very stringent law on the subject for besides ordinary vaccination in the first year of infancy, it provides for at least two subsequent revaccinations at intervals of from five to seven years so that by the time a child has reached its fifteenth year it will have been vaccinated three times Besides during epidemics of small pox local authorities have power, when they deem it necessary to order the vaccination of all the inhabitants of their districts irrespective of the vaccination required by the law —Nature

'College Life with Illustrations

A New York daily has struck out a new feature It is writing up college life with woodcuts depicting the rooms of rich students They show tables covered with pipes cigar boxes boxing gloves French novels etc If the boys had only known that the artist was coming round they could have had six or eight lexicons and a few abstruse scientific works in the foreground —Boston Transcript

SCROFULOUS, INHERITED AND CONTAGIOUS HUMORS CURED BY CUTICURA.

Through the medium of one of your books received through Mr Frank T Wray Druggist Apollo Pa I became acquainted with your Cuticura Remedies and take this opportunity to testify to you that their use has permanently cured me of one of the worst cases of blood poisoning in connection with erysipelas, that I have ever seen, and this after having been pronounced incurable by some of the best physicians in our county I take great pleasure in forwarding to you this testimonial unsolicited as it is by you in order that others suffering from similar maladies may be encouraged to give your Cuticura Remedies a trial

SCROFULOUS ULCERS

James E Richardson Custom House New Orleans on oath says In 1870 Scrofulous Ulcers broke out on my body until I was a mass of corruption Everything known to the medical faculty was tried in vain I became a mere wreck At times could not lift my hands to my head could not turn in bed, was in constant pain and looked upon life as a curse No relief or cure in ten years In 1880 I heard of the Cuticura Remedies used them and was perfectly cured

Choking Catarrh.

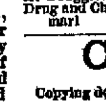

Have you awakened from a disturbed sleep with all the horrible sensations of an assassin clutching your throat and pressing the life breath from your tightened chest? Have you noticed the languor and debility that succeed the effort to clear your throat and head of this catarrhal matter? What a depressing influence it exerts upon the mind, clouding the memory and filling the head with pains and strange noises! How difficult it is to rid the nasal passages, throat and lungs of this poisonous mucus all can testify who are afflicted with catarrh How difficult to protect the system against its further progress towards the lungs, liver and kidneys, all physicians will admit. It is a terrible disease, and cries out for relief and cure

The remarkable curative powers, when all other remedies utterly fail, of Sanford's Radical Cure, are attested by thousands who gratefully recommend it to fellow sufferers No statement is made regarding it that cannot be substantiated by the most respectable and reliable references

Each packet contains one bottle of the Radical Cure, one box of Catarrhal Solvent, and an Improved Inhaler, with treatise and directions, and is sold by all druggists for $1 00

HIGH AUTHORITY.

Hop Bitters is not in any sense, an alcoholic beverage or liquor, and could not be sold, for use, except to persons desirous of obtaining medicinal bitters

GREEN B RAUM,
U S. Com'r Internal Rev

WASHINGTON, D C , Sept 24, 1884

Dear Sir—Why don't you get a certificate from Col W H W , of Baltimore, showing how he cured himself of drunkenness by the help of Hop Bitters His is a wonderful case He is well known in Rochester, N. Y , by all the drinking people there He is known in this city, Cincinnati, New Orleans, New York , in fact all over the country, as he has spent thousands of dollars for rum I honestly believe his card would be worth thousands of dollars to you in this city and Baltimore alone, and make thousands of sober men by inducing the use of your bitters

PREJUDICE KILLS.

"Eleven years our daughter suffered on a bed of misery under the care of several of the best physicians, who gave her disease various names but no relief, and now she is restored to us in good health by Hop Bitters, that we had poohed at two years before using it We earnestly hope and pray that no one else will let their sick suffer as we did on account of prejudice against so good a medicine as Hop Bitters "—The Parents—Good Templars

MILTON, Del , Feb 10 1886

Having used Hop Bitters the noted remedy for debility, nervousness, indigestion, etc , I have no hesitation in saying that it is indeed an excellent medicine and recommend it to any one as a truly tonic bitters Respectfully,

Rev MRS J H ELLWOOD

Scipio, N Y , Dec 1, 1884

I am the pastor of the Baptist church here and an educated physician I am not in practice, but am my sole family physician, and advise in chronic cases Over a year ago I recommended your Hop Bitters to my invalid wife, who has been under medical treatment of Albany's best physicians several years She has been greatly benefited and still uses the medicine I believe she will become thoroughly cured of her various complicated diseases by their use We both recommend them to our friends, many of whom have also been cured of their various ailments by them

CURED OF DRINKING

"A young friend of mine was cured of an insatiable thirst for liquor that had so prostrated his system that he was unable to do any business He was entirely cured by the use of Hop Bitters It allayed all that burning thirst, took away the appetite for liquor, made his nerves steady, and he has remained a steady and sober man for more than two years and has no desire to return to his cups, nor I know of a number of others that have been cured of drinking by it —From a leading R R Official Chicago Ill
